AIC Masks

To All Adults in Custody,

Yesterday, the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) and the Oregon Health Authority issued new guidance for lifting mask and social distancing requirements for fully-vaccinated individuals. It is yet another sign that, if we all continue to do our part, the pandemic is coming closer to an end.

Starting May 13, 2021:

- Oregonians who are fully-vaccinated no longer need to wear masks or social distance in most public spaces.
- There are a few exceptions, such as public transportation, hospitals, correctional facilities, and long-term care facilities.

Thank you for your continuing to wear masks and keeping yourselves and those around you safe.

A todos los adultos bajo custodia,

Ayer, los Centros para el Control y la Prevención de Enfermedades (CDC) y la Autoridad de Salud de Oregón emitieron una nueva guía para los requisitos de levantamiento de máscara y distanciamiento social para personas completamente vacunadas. Es una señal más de que, si todos seguimos haciendo nuestra parte, la pandemia se acerca a su fin.

A partir del 13 de mayo de 2021:

- Los residentes de Oregon que están completamente vacunados ya no necesitan usar máscaras o distancia social en la mayoría de los espacios públicos.
- Hay algunas excepciones, como el transporte público, los hospitales, las instalaciones correccionales y las instalaciones de atención a largo plazo.

Gracias por seguir usando máscaras y por mantenerse a salvo a sí mismos y a quienes los rodean.

Understanding Date Labels on Packages

Many consumers don't understand the date labels on packaged foods, so let's see if we can clear up some of that confusion. Here are some facts about packaged food date labels and how to tell if your food is really spoiled.

Tips for understanding date labels

Date labels are based on quality, not safety (except for infant formula products).

EXPIRATION DATE _____

- A "Best if Used By/Before" date indicates when a product will be of best flavor or quality. It is not a purchase or safety date.
- A "Sell-By" date tells the store how long to display the product for sale for inventory management. It is not a safety date.
- A "Use-By" date is the last date recommended for the use of the product while at peak quality. It is not a safety date except for when used on infant formula (infant formula products are required to have a "Use-By" date as regulated by the federal government).
- A "Freeze-By" date indicates when a product should be frozen to maintain peak quality. It is not a purchase or safety date.

Labeling is Voluntary

Manufacturers may add date labels voluntarily, and these labels should be considered an estimate. Food manufacturers add these date labels to inform consumers of the date up to which the food will be at its peak quality and flavor. Food should be safe to consume past its date label if it has been properly stored.

How to Tell if Food is Spoiled

Food that is abnormally soft, discolored, or has a bad smell is likely spoiled. Food that has molded or has developed a "slimy" film on it should not be eaten. In the case of canned goods, swollen or leaking cans often indicate a spoiled product.

Consumers should regularly evaluate foods their pantry and refrigerator, look for any changes in texture and smell, and use their best judgement when deciding whether to eat or throw away a particular food.

SRCI Commissary News

SRCI Commissary has been experiencing a significant increase in sales due to the Economic Impact Payments. We are working diligently to keep popular items on the shelf; unfortunately, we are still seeing delays and shortages from them and from their manufacturers. As a result of product availability issues outside of our control, the following changes will take place beginning the week of June 7th:

- Putting limits on products that are low on inventory to better allow product to be spread out throughout the facility.
- Complex rotations for a limited duration to provide each complex an opportunity to have their orders pulled and processed first. This rotation will only be offered to General Population and only for a limited time.

Our annual wall to wall inventory takes place in June so we will be not be processing orders the week of June 28 – July 2. The only exception will be Special Housing. To assist with this, all pre-sale incentive items will be suspended from May 24 – July 12. Any orders submitted for incentive items will not be processed. Normal sales of these items will resume beginning July 12, 2021. We appreciate your understanding and patience.
