January 2019

Happy New Year,

As a formerly incarcerated person, and those of us who have a loved one doing time, we know spending any holiday in jail or prison is not a time filled with holiday cheer. One thing I learned the first holiday I spent behind the walls... they can lock up our bodies, but they can't lock up our minds. Give yourself permission to think of lovely times in your life and remember, you are the master of your fate and the captain of your soul.

So take a little time in the New Year and give the gift of you. Let your imagination roam;

Is there someone who always eats alone?

Sit with them.

Is there someone who just got to prison that might like to talk to another prisoner who has been there a lot longer than they have?

Do you remember how daunting it can be before you get your 'groove' on?

Do you know someone who just lost a loved one?

Listening is one of the best gifts of all!

Is there anyone to whom you could offer these gifts of friendship?

Who might benefit from your gift of kindness?

Giving of one's self is the most precious gift of all.

Take the time to treat yourself and others extra special this season.

Redemption is the act of making something better or more acceptable.

I believe in myself today and have learned how to walk as a free person with my head held high!

We at Oregon CURE wish each of you a healthy and happy new year.
