What's New in the News at The Creek?

Flu Vaccines Central Health Services

Can't I wait and get vaccinated when/if flu hits my community? It is best to get vaccinated before flu begins to spread. It takes about two weeks for the flu vaccine to provide full protection, so the sooner you get vaccinated, the more likely it is that you will be fully protected once flu begins to circulate in your community.

Flu vaccines can't give you the flu. Even if you got a flu vaccine, there are reasons why you might still get flu or a flu-like illness. • You may have been exposed to a non-flu virus before or after you got vaccinated. The flu vaccine can only prevent illnesses caused by flu viruses. It cannot protect against non-flu viruses that may cause flu-like illness. • Or you might have been exposed to flu after you got vaccinated but before the vaccine took effect. It takes about two weeks after you receive the vaccine for your body to build protection against the flu. • Or you may have been exposed to an influenza virus that was very different from the viruses included in that year's vaccine. The flu vaccine protects against the influenza viruses that research indicates will cause the most disease during the upcoming season, but there can be other flu viruses circulating. • Unfortunately, the flu vaccine doesn't provide the same protection for everyone. How well the flu vaccine works (or its ability to prevent flu) can range widely from season to season and also can vary depending on who is being vaccinated

You need to get a flu vaccine every year. You need to get a flu vaccine every year to protect yourself against the viruses that research suggests are most likely to circulate each season. There are two reasons for getting a flu vaccine every year: a) The first reason is because flu viruses are constantly changing, flu vaccines may be updated from one season to the next to protect against the viruses that research indicates may be most common during the upcoming flu season. b) The second reason annual vaccination is recommended is that a person's immune protection from the vaccine declines over time. Annual vaccination is needed for optimal protection.

Vacunas contra la gripe

¿No puedo esperar y vacunarme cuando/si la gripe llega a mi comunidad? Lo mejor es vacunarse antes de que la gripe comience a propagarse. La vacuna contra la gripe tarda aproximadamente dos semanas en proporcionar una protección completa, por lo que cuanto antes se vacune, es más probable que esté completamente protegido una vez que la gripe comience a circular en su comunidad.

Las vacunas contra la gripe no pueden contagiarle la gripe. Incluso si se vacunó contra la influenza, existen razones por las que aún podría contraer la influenza o una enfermedad similar a la influenza. *Es posible que haya estado expuesto a un virus que no sea de la gripe antes o después de vacunarse. La vacuna contra la gripe solo puede prevenir enfermedades causadas por los virus de la gripe. No puede proteger contra virus que no son de la gripe que pueden causar enfermedades similares a la gripe. * O es posible que haya estado expuesto a la gripe después de vacunarse, pero antes de que la vacuna surtiera efecto. Se necesitan aproximadamente dos semanas después de recibir la vacuna para que su cuerpo desarrolle protección contra la gripe. * O es posible que haya estado expuesto a un virus de influenza que era muy diferente de los virus incluidos en la vacuna de ese año. La vacuna contra la influenza protege contra los virus de la influenza que, según indican las investigaciones, causarán la mayoría de las enfermedades durante la próxima temporada, pero puede haber otros virus de la influenza en circulación. * Desafortunadamente, la vacuna contra la influenza no brinda la misma protección para todos. La eficacia de la vacuna contra la influenza (o su capacidad para prevenir la influenza) puede variar ampliamente de una temporada a otra y también puede variar según quién se vacune.

Debe vacunarse contra la gripe todos los años. Debe vacunarse contra la influenza todos los años para protegerse contra los virus que, según las investigaciones, tienen más probabilidades de circular cada temporada. Hay dos razones para vacunarse contra la influenza todos los años: a) La primera razón es que los virus de la influenza cambian constantemente, las vacunas contra la influenza pueden actualizarse de una temporada a la siguiente para proteger contra los virus que, según indican las investigaciones, pueden ser más comunes durante la temporada. próxima temporada de gripe. b) La segunda razón por la que se recomienda la vacunación anual es que la protección inmunitaria de una persona frente a la vacuna disminuye con el tiempo. La vacunación anual es necesaria para una protección óptima.

Corridor Reminders security

When you leave your unit, you must be properly dressed for your destination: as a rule, going to work or to attend a callout means you should not be in shorts...unless the callout is yoga and then shorts are perfect. Coming into the unit to take out the garbage or to pick up cup carts is your work assignment and shorts are not perfect.

Sandals are only allowed to be work in the corridor with approval from Health Services.

Movement in the corridor should be purposeful and does not include time to socialize. Please do not stop to wait to see and chat with friends from other units.

Please be aware of the noise level. Yelling from one end of the corridor to the other is never allowed and the excess noise makes it difficult for staff who work in and off the corridor to do their jobs.

Medium Line Movements Captain Donald

The Medium will soon resume the use of line movements, coordinated by the Corridor Sergeant, for most institution movements. Stakeholders have agreed to schedule callouts and release AICs to coordinate with scheduled line movement times. We know there will be exceptions, line movements will be the rule.

Here's a breakdown of how line movements will run:

- Line movements begin at 6:00am and end at 9:30pm daily.
- Line movements happen every 30 minutes.
- The Corridor Sergeant will announce line movements and call all available staff to report to the Corridor for clothed searches and supervision.
- No AIC should be released from a callout without a line movement being called or prior approval from the Corridor Sergeant.
- AICs will walk on the right side of the Corridor.
- Unit staff will use the callouts to verify each AIC has a callout prior to them leaving the unit until an ID scanner can be installed on each unit.
- Some AICs have been issued hall passes and can move outside of the line movement schedule. Hall passes are stamped and approved by the Asst. Supt of Security or the Operations Capt.
- An AIC who is in the Corridor outside of a scheduled line movement, without a hall pass, will be directed to return to their housing unit and progressive discipline will be used.
- All AICs will be properly dressed prior to leaving their units. Clothing will be worn as it is intended. Shirts must be tucked in. No shower shoes or slides will be worn in the Corridor unless medically cleared. Please refer to AIC handbook to read the entire dress code.

It is normal for people who experience sexual abuse to feel overwhelmed and have a lot of questions about their options. No one deserves to be sexually abused. It is not your fault. Surviving and healing are possible.

AICs who have experienced sexual abuse can reach a community-based advocate by dialing “711” from the AIC telephone system. Community-based advocates provide survivors of sexual abuse information about their options, resources, information, and emotional support. Calls to “711” are confidential and free of charge.

Advocate’s role

- Provide over-the-phone confidential support and crisis intervention related to sexual abuse
- Talk with a survivor about their current and ongoing safety
- Explain reporting options available through PREA
- Support survivor at a sexual assault forensic medical examination
- Support survivor at an investigatory interview related to sexual abuse, as requested
- Educate/teach survivor coping skills for healing from sexual abuse
- Provide resources and referrals
- Provide follow-up support

An Advocate Does Not

- Make decisions or tell a survivor what to do
- Tell a survivor whether to report
- Investigate a crime
- Provide legal advice
- Be a survivor’s friend
  - Provide therapy
- Communicate with the institution unless the survivor requests them to and only with a signed, limited release of information

Community-based advocacy centers provide sexual abuse support to people of all genders. Community-based advocates will not report the sexual abuse unless you request them to and only if you sign a release of information.

Advocacy crisis lines are not reporting hotlines. To file a report, contact the Inspector General Hotline by dialing “9” on the AIC telephone system, writing an AIC communication (kyte), filing a grievance, or writing the Governor’s Office at State Capitol, Room 160, 900 Court Street, Salem, OR 97301.

DOC is committed to providing AICs with avenues to seek assistance. Below are additional resources:

Just Detention International Headquarters

3325 Wilshire Blvd., Suite 340
Los Angeles, CA 90010

DOC PREA Advocate Coordinator

Oregon Department of Corrections

Salem, Oregon 97302

The community-based advocacy crisis line is for individuals needing assistance coping with sexual abuse related issues and is not to be used for other purposes. Contacting an advocate for anything other than services related directly to coping with sexual abuse takes away valuable resources for sexual assault survivors who need an advocate's help. Telephone calls and mail to community-based advocacy centers are considered privileged, confidential communication and will be handled in the same manner as legal calls and official mail.

You may reach your community-based advocate by dialing "711" from the AIC telephone, dialing their direct crisis line number, or sending written correspondence.
