HEALTH SERVICES

KOP Medline Updates and Reminders

First, we would like to say thank you for your patience and understanding as we roll out the EHR system and work on getting all the kinks worked out.

As you may have noticed we are not doing callouts to notify you that you're in-cell medications are ready for you to pick up. Instead, we are now sending yellow cards to notify you. You still have the option to come to either the 6am line or the 11am line. You do not have to have your yellow card with you, although it is helpful if you do. You do have to have your ID with you.

As always you need to stop by the pill line on your way to chow. If you wait until after chow, you run the risk the line will have been called, and you may have to wait until the next line. We call the line when the last block has let everyone out for chow. The chow hall always calls to ensure everyone in line has had a chance to go to chow before they stop serving.

Just a reminder no food, drinks, or containers of any kind empty or full are allowed on the carts for any reason. So please just don't put anything on the cart.

Make sure you are turning in your kynes into the medical kytic box on the control floor with the big red cross. Make sure you are putting your stickers for the medications you are needing or the name of the medication you need. We cannot order all your medication; you have to tell us what you need. Medications can only be refilled about 5 to 7 days early from the last fill date. This means we cannot fill them any earlier. Keep an eye on the date your prescription expires so you give plenty of notice that the expiration is upcoming so we can try and make sure you don't have to wait to get the prescription renewed. Also, on the back of your pill pack or the box your medication came in is the date the medication expires, so look at that too. Especially on the medications you don't use daily.

Tree Nut, Sesame, Soy, and Milk Allergy Notice

AICs with tree nut and sesame allergies, who experience anaphylactic reactions, need to report their allergy to Health Services. Health Services already tracks AICs with milk and soy allergies. Food Services just purchased Toasted Oats (Toasted O's), a cereal we have purchased in the past. This cereal is processed in the same facility as tree nuts (almonds), sesame, soy, and milk derivatives (ingredients made from milk). To avoid exposure, you must ask Foodservice staff what dry cereal is being served then self-select by asking for no dry cereal when Toasted Oats are served. During the Fall-Winter 2025-26 dry cereal is on the menu twice weekly. However, institutions may make changes anytime, without notice.

Braille Transcription Graduation Celebrates First Certified AICs

On November 20, 2025, the Oregon Department of Corrections (DOC) and Oregon Corrections Enterprises (OCE) proudly hosted a milestone graduation ceremony, honoring the first cohort of Adults in Custody (AICs) to complete Oregon's new braille transcription and certification program. Family and friends gathered to celebrate the remarkable achievements of their loved ones in this transformative vocational initiative.

The graduates—members of a group they've proudly named “The Braille Cell”—were recognized for their dedication and progress in the Unified English Braille (UEB) Course, offered through the National Library Service for the Blind and Print Disabled in partnership with the National Federation of the Blind. After 16 months of rigorous study, six AICs were honored for their commitment to mastering braille. Of those, two have officially earned their UEB Literary Transcriber certification and are now nationally certified braille transcribers.

Speakers included Stasha Kellogg, OSP Program Supervisor, and Melanie Doolin, OCE Administrator. Guests were invited to explore embossed braille manuscripts created by the students—tangible proof of their skill, perseverance, and growth.

“As an AIC there are not many opportunities to have a positive impact on the community outside these walls. I feel that Braille has given me that opportunity. That what I am doing while incarcerated is not just a waste of time, but is making a difference in the world,” shared Caleb Johnson, one of the graduates, reflecting on the deeper meaning behind their work.

Funded by a federal Bureau of Justice Assistance grant, the program operates at Oregon State Penitentiary (OSP) and Coffee Creek Correctional Facility (CCCF). Designed to roll out in phases, it equips participants with highly specialized, in-demand skills while addressing a critical national shortage of braille transcribers. Learning braille is no small feat—it's akin to mastering a new language and alphabet—making these accomplishments even more impressive.

“The Braille program here at OCE has provided a wonderful opportunity for an AIC’s educational growth, and to be challenged while learning a skill most of us would never have thought about learning,” said

Richard Gustafson, another graduate, highlighting the program's impact on personal development and intellectual engagement.

To earn certification, students must complete 19 lessons, pass a reading test, and produce a braille manuscript, each reviewed by a nationally certified grader. While official certificates are still en route, two students have already completed all requirements and earned their UEB Literary certification. Two more have submitted their manuscripts and are awaiting grading, and five others have advanced to the next phase: the OCE Braille Software Course.

"The Braille Cell" was created not only to provide meaningful, rehabilitative training, but also to open doors to real employment opportunities post-release. Graduates receive nationally recognized certifications that qualify them to work as braille transcribers anywhere in the U.S. The program was also developed in partnership with the Oregon Textbook and Media Center (OTMC) to help meet the state's growing need for accessible educational materials for blind and visually impaired K-12 students.

With the first certifications now awarded, OCE is preparing to launch transcription services—an exciting next step that will support the program's long-term sustainability and allow participants to contribute directly to the community.

Informational Briefing

Court Ordered Financial Obligations (COFOs)

What are Court Ordered Financial Obligations (COFOs)?

COFOs are financial obligations owed by an Adult in Custody (AIC) assigned during a legal proceeding. COFOs may consist of restitution, fines, fees, child support, or civil judgements including money owed to a victim. Note: COFOs are not the same as County and U.S. Court Filing Fees.

Why does the Department of Corrections (DOC) collect COFOs?

Oregon Revised Statute (ORS) 423.105 became law in 2017, directing DOC to collect COFOs on behalf of the Oregon Judicial Department (OJD) and the Department of Justice (DOJ).

How are COFOs collected?

COFOs are collected from eligible deposits, or deposits that are not protected from debt and obligation collection. Examples of eligible deposits include AIC performance monetary awards (PRAS) and moneys received from an AIC's family or friends.

10% of each eligible deposit is collected until the AIC's transitional savings has reached $500. After the AIC's transitional savings has reached $500, 15% of each eligible deposit is collected for COFOs until those obligations are satisfied.

Who do I contact if I have questions about COFOs?

DOC is unable to provide case-specific information. AICs with questions or concerns about their COFO details should contact OJD/DOJ or the appropriate court of record.
